

New SUSPENSION

CARDONE New Suspension Products are grounded in the same reverse engineering competencies that have made our remanufactured products synonymous with quality. Every unit is designed to match O.E. fit, function and performance standards. With 100% computerized testing, CARDONE New Suspension Products provide reliable performance you can trust.

- Engineered product design improvements prevent typical causes of original unit failure.
- Hydraulically tested for proper flow, pressure, leakage and performance.
- New premium grade seals and O-rings are utilized, including high-temperature seals, when applicable.
- On-car validation, when applicable, ensures fit, durability and performance requirements.
